Revised Notice of an Open Application Period for Cultivation Center, Manufacturer, and Courier Licenses

The Alcoholic Beverage and Cannabis Board (Board) hereby gives notice of a revised open application period for both social equity and standard cultivation center, manufacturer, and courier licenses, and sets forth the process for the submission of applications to the Board.

Specifically, Title 22-C of the District of Columbia Municipal Regulations requires the Board, at the start of each open application period, to publish a Notice in the D.C. Register setting forth the process for the submission of available applications. The notice shall provide the address for submission and the process for obtaining application materials from the Board. This information shall also be provided on the Alcoholic Beverage and Cannabis Administration's (ABCA) website.

On April 14, 2023, the Board published a notice in the D.C. Register announcing an open application period for standard applicants to file a cultivation center, manufacturer, or courier license application with the Board. The published notice also included an open application period for the same medical cannabis facility license types for social equity applicants that closed on Friday, June 30, 2023.

Subsequent to the social equity open application period closing, the Council of the District of Columbia adopted Bill 25-0367, the Medical Cannabis Clarification and Non-Resident Patient Access Emergency Amendment Act of 2023, which took effect on July 31, 2023, and significantly expanded the definition of a social equity applicant. To ensure that persons that now qualify as social equity applicants under the new law have an opportunity to apply for a cultivation center, manufacturer, or courier license, the Board is also opening the open application period for standard applicants to those persons that qualify as social equity applicants.

DC Law 24-0332, the Medical Cannabis Amendment Act of 2022 (Act), effective March 22, 2023, requires in relevant part that at least 50% of the new cultivation center, manufacturer, and courier licenses made available by the Board be set aside for social equity applicants, as defined in the Act. As noted in the public notice published in the D.C. Register on April 14, 2023, the number of cultivation center, manufacturer, and courier licenses made available to standard applicants during this open application period is based upon the number of social equity applicants that applied and were accepted for cultivation center, manufacturer, and courier licenses during the open application period that ended on June 30, 2023. Accordingly, the Board is making 24 cultivation center, 20 manufacturer, and 2 courier licenses available to standard applicants during the open application period.

Cultivation center, manufacturer, and courier licenses will be made available to standard applicants during the open application period on a first-come basis based upon the order that the applications are received by the Board. No more than 24 cultivation center, 20 manufacturer, and 2 courier licenses will be approved by the Board for standard applicants during the open application period.

Both social equity applicants and standard applicants that do not currently have a physical location to operate a cultivation center, manufacturer, or courier license are permitted to file a one-year conditional license application during the open application period, subject to the requirements of the Act and Title 22-C.

The Board provides the following information regarding the application process for the open application period:

1. The first day for social equity and standard applicants to file a cultivation center, manufacturer, or courier license application with the Board shall be 9:00 a.m. EST on Tuesday, August 29, 2023. The last day for social equity and standard applicants to file a cultivation center, manufacturer, or courier license application with the Board is 4 p.m., on Monday, October 30, 2023. As noted above, applications filed during the open application period will be considered on a first come basis with 24 cultivation center, 20 manufacturer, and 2 courier licenses being made available to standard applicants beginning on August 29, 2023. The Board reserves the right to close the application period earlier than October 30, 2023 depending upon the volume of applications received by the Board from standard applicants during the open application period.
